News and Notes from the Riverdale Historical Society, Toronto, Canada

What's Going on in Riverdale Park?

The St. Matthew's Lawn Bowling Club is on the move - again! Here's the background, as told by Riverdale Historical Society President, Mr. Gerald Whyte

A major interest of the Riverdale Historical Society over the last few years has been the preservation of the St. Matthew's Lawn Bowling Club clubhouse, a designated heritage structure.

The St. Matthew's Lawn Bowling Club was established on land south of St. Matthew's Anglican Church, 135 First Avenue, following the erection of the Church in 1890. To allow for the construction of a parish hall, the club was relocated in 1906 to City of Toronto parkland just west of the Don Jail, where the clubhouse was built. It was designed by Robert McCallum, Toronto's first City Architect. A fine example of Toronto park architecture in the Arts and Crafts style, it has broad verandas from which spectators could view the lawn bowling. For over a hundred years bowlers, dressed in white, played their leisurely and ancient sport in the grim shadow of the Don Jail, reflecting two very different aspects of city life.

In 2009, after the Club was closed, the clubhouse was moved through Riverdale Park East to a new location opposite Langley Avenue. There it was placed on a new foundation and awaits renovation and restoration this year.

The move of the Clubhouse through the park over several days was a major attraction for the Riverdale community. Most of us have not witnessed the skilled process of moving a structure over rather difficult terrain to a new location. While a number of trees were lost because of the move, many of these have now been replaced. The foundation has been very carefully and tastefully constructed of brick matching the age of the building. It is located close to Broadview Avenue where it will be under constant observation. The use of the clubhouse will be determined in consultation with the community this year.

We look forward to observing the restoration of this historic building and to the discussion of its expanded use as a public building in Riverdale Park East. It would certainly be useful as a headquarters for many park events, the verandas providing shelter from uncooperative weather. Let us welcome this venerable structure to our very diverse park life.

A Word from Our President

Portrait by Michael Sage

Welcome to the first edition of The Riverdalian, an important new milestone in the ten year history of the Riverdale Historical Society. Since our founding in November 1999 we have held 105 events, unveiled ten heritage plaques, received two Heritage Toronto awards, contributed to the Heritage Toronto Walks program and have a full program ready for 2010. We look forward to our members and friends continued interest and support.

Historical Riverdale Plaque Unveiled

August 18 2009 marked the 90th anniversary of the opening of Allen's Danforth Theatre, known today as the Danforth Music Hall. A bronze plaque, sponsored by the RHS and Heritage Toronto, was unveiled before an enthusiastic sold out crowd. On that opening day over 90 years ago, the crowd came to see a silent film starring Madge Kennedy. That film has been lost to the dust of time, however another of her films from that era, "Dollars and Sense", was transferred from its original 5 reels by the Smithsonian Film Institute, and shipped to Toronto for the evening's event. Accompanied live by pianist John Kruspe and members of his family, the crowd roared its approval with a heart felt standing ovation. Members of the Allen family, whose theatre chain once numbered over 50 venues across Canada, were present for this historical commemoration.

Recipes from the Riverdale Almanac, 1908

With the cold winter season upon us the following may be of interest to our readers.

For the Sick

Oatmeal Gruel

Put four tablespoons of the best grits (oatmeal coarsely ground) into a pint of boiling water. Let it boil gently, and stir it often, till it becomes as thick as you wish it. Then strain and add to it while warm, butter, wine, nutmeg, or whatever is thought proper to flavour it. Salt to taste. If you make the gruel of fine oatmeal, sift it, mix it first to a thick batter with a little cold water, and then put it into a saucepan of boiling water. Stir it all the time it is boiling, lifting the spoon gently up and down, and letting the gruel fall slowly back again into the pan.

Excellent Cough Mixture

One cup of gum, one cup of honey, one cup of lemon juice, one ounce of glycerine, mix well, bottle and take one teaspoon when cough is troublesome.

? Did You Know ?

Riverdale Library, 1910

The Riverdale Library was one of ten Toronto public libraries to open between 1907 and 1916 using funds from American business titan and philanthropist, Andrew Carnegie. The Georgian Revival building, designed by Robert McCallum, City Architect, opened on October 19, 1910. Mr. Carnegie donated the money to build and equip, providing the city do its part by donating land and fund the library's ongoing operation and maintenance. Other Toronto Carnegie libraries still in use as such include the branches of Beaches, High Park, Annette Street, Wychwood, Yorkville and Weston.
